

RURAL ALASKA NEEDS A GOVERNOR WHO UNDERSTANDS...

STEVE COWPER DOESN'T!

Rural Alaska needs a governor who is committed to preserving our heritage and unique lifestyle. Cowper says he is committed to rural Alaska, but here are some comments he has made on critical issues:

► COWPER ON SUBSISTENCE ◀

"It's wrong to look at subsistence from a cultural viewpoint. . . I think the law is going to have to be changed so that subsistence permits are based on need."

-Anchorage Daily News; April 19, 1985

► COWPER ON DIVIDEND CHECKS ◀

Steve Cowper said he opposed the Permanent Fund Dividend. He said the dividend "doesn't jive with America's proper values."

-Peninsula Clarion; May 19, 1982

► COWPER ON RURAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ◀

(On building a road and port for the Red Dog Mine) "I just don't think we ought to be doing that sort of thing."

-The Capitol Reporter; September, 1985

► COWPER ON TAXES ◀

"I'd consider a proposal to impose a state sales tax. . ."

-Anchorage Daily News; August 1, 1986

ARLISS STURGULEWSKI HAS A PROVEN RECORD ON ISSUES CRITICAL TO RURAL ALASKA. She's a staunch supporter of the Permanent Fund, of subsistence, of education and public safety, and rural economic development.
