

April 16, 1990

Tundra Times

Page Seventeen

Every day is Earth Day for Alaska's Miners

Receiving Earth's bounties, restoring its beauties, miners care for the Earth all year long. America's modern mining industry is a steward of the land that yields the building blocks of our civilization—minerals.

- ARCTIC TECHNOLOGY • NEW JOBS
- CLEAN AIR & WATER • WILDLIFE HABITAT

WESTGOLD

184 East 13th Avenue
Anchorage, Alaska 99518