Here for the long run.

Iditarod. The long run to Nome, testing strength and endurance — and National Bank of Alaska, an enduring Alaska institution, proudly supports this annual race to glory.

And our support shows from beginning to end. Besides providing the winner's purse for the Iditarod champion, NBA also sponsors the Red Lantern Award, given to the last hardy soul to cross the finish line. And the legendary Musher's Banquet, underwritten by NBA, makes the run to Nome worth all the hardship to every musher.

But it's no surprise that NBA should support the Iditarod so enthusiastically. After all, we're both here for the long run.
