

TNPR negotiates FY84 contract

The FY 1984 health proposal contract negotiations were held on July 8 and, with a few exceptions, agreement was reached on the scope of work and budget levels.

Kathy Kvasnikoff, English Bay CHA, completed CHAP Session I training at ANMC in June.

Elenore McMullen, Port Graham CHA, testified at hearings held by the Senate Select Committee on Indian Affairs in Anchorage on June 3.

Agnes Nichols also participated in the hearings as part of the Alaska Native Health Board panel. Agnes recently attended an Ohoyo Leadership Conference for American Indian-Alaska Native Women at the University of North Dakota.

Joe Frank has joined the staff of the Health and Social Services Department. He is an Administrative Officer and is involved with grants/contract management, and program development and monitoring. Joe previously worked for Tanana Chiefs Conference and the community of Holy Cross, which is his home town.

The Camp Fire - Chugach Council Summer Water Safety and Recreation Program was held in our villages. It was funded through the EMS and JOM programs.

Seward received federal emergency food and shelter monies from the United Way, and the funds are being distributed through the TNPR field office. Karen Swartz, CHR, is the Seward Field Office Director.