

University of Alaska Anchorage art student Alex Perez receives a certificate of merit from UAA Chancellor Dr. Donald Behrend at a potluck for Native student graduates sponsored by the UAA Native Student Services. More photos of the event to honor the students, Page Nine.

Honoring 1989 UAA graduates

photos by Chris Cushman

Native students graduating from the University of Alaska Anchorage, other UAA students and a lot of faculty members, friends and relatives gathered recently to honor this year's graduates. The potluck was sponsored by the Native Student Services at UAA. Getting a bite to eat, at top, are UAA student Arlien Nuglene, right, and her daughter, Gail Nuglene, center, and her niece, April Nuglene. Pat Pickett, center left photo, keeps an eye out on Kristin Oovi Kaneshiro. Taking a break from the evening's activities, center right photo, are UAA student Marie Nuglene, and her son Joe Nuglene. At right, Elaine Abraham, head of the Native Student Services program, chats with Dr. Ted Mala of the UAA Institute of Circumpolar Studies.

