

Our beat's around the bush.

There's not many airlines in this world that can boast of shipping an expectant Husky from Anchorage, delivering over Nome, and then enjoying a cigar in Unalakleet. We can...we're Great Northern Airlines and we fly Alaska.

If you've got a package going to a village with a name you can't even pronounce, let Great Northern give you a hand. Chances are we can get that package to that particular village before you can even learn to say it.

We're fast, dependable and out to give rural Alaska the quality shipping service it deserves.

So next time you've got a package that needs to go...and go quickly, call Great Northern. At Great Northern Airlines, we guarantee delivery in Alaska...and in certain cases, delivery over Alaska

We'll get it to the bush on time.

Great Northern Airlines

a division of American International Air Lines, Inc.