

Give credit where credit is due

The Edith Kennedy story appearing in Dec. 31 edition of the Arctic Sounder was from the Tundra Times Dec. 16 issue. We did not receive credit for it.

From time to time, we do get copyright release forms from schools, universities, museums, other institutions and newsletters and publications. We do give consent to these because of their educational purposes, newsworthiness and historical value.

The Tundra Times wants to protect its writers, many of whom isolated in various places in the State. If you want to make copies for classes, for friends or to use materials you must let us know.
