

Noah Jack Academic Affairs Head

COLLEGE--Noah Jack of Bethel was chosen as Academic Affairs Department Head in elections for officers of the Associated Students of the University of Alaska (ASUA) on the College campus last week.

A record number of students turned out for the elections to the representative student government, with Jack handily capturing the winning votes. He is a sophomore with an undetermined major.

Noah's parents are Eddie and Sophie Jack of Bethel. He is a 1969 graduate of Bethel High School.

Other elected officers are Norman "Chip" Wagoner, President, of Stafford Springs, Connecticut; Mike Heimbuch, Student Services Department Head, of Anchorage, and Martin Walther, Senate Affairs Department Head, of Baltimore, Maryland.
