Brayton's Debate

Offer Is Refused

By McKinley

Lee L. (Doc) McKiriley,

Republican contender for the U.S. Senate, did not accept or turn down an opponent's challenge to a TV debate here recently.

Larry Brayton, Faírbanks Republican rumning against McKinley for the GOP nomination in this fall's primary elections, challenged McKinley to a televised debate. "We have a big enough job to do this year without looking to the Democrat's ageold 'shell game' of divide and conquer," said McKinley. "I am sure that when the handsome young Mr. Brayton gives this proposed debate a little more thought, he will realize that our temporary status as the minority party does not allow us the luxury of in-fighting."
