A SUBSIDIARY OF ARCTIC SLOPE REGIONAL CORPORATION

"Size is no object on Mark Air."

"My friend and I have been loading both kinds of MarkAir planes for some time now. And there still are days when we can't believe what those flying machines can do.

Our Hercules cargo planes have flown oil rigs, semi-trailers, D-9 Cats and even an elephant. In fact, we've flown a whole circus!

Then there are our 737 jets. With these planes, people on our passenger routes can count on quick delivery of perishable goods and other supplies. And on MarkAir all your cargo gets the same first class treatment, both on and off the plane, that we give our passengers.

We've seen all kinds of cargo. The elephant was probably our favorite. Yet, it seems that no matter what the load, MarkAir can handle it. After all, Alaska is our home. And we know how to get your cargo wherever you need it."
