In his announcement Begich stated, "I believe I can do more for Alaska than is presently being done by the incumbent and therefore I am announcing my candidacy for the U.S. House of Representatives. I have always served my constituents enthusiastically and effectively. I hope to continue giving the same service to all Alaskans."

"My wife and I have confidence in the great future of Alaska and we want to do everything we can to enhance that future. Our five children have been born in Alaska and are growing with Alaska.

"I would like to call on all Alaskans who believe as I do in the future of this great state to assist me in the campaign ahead."
