In our eyes, the winner of the Iditarod Trail Dog Sled Race won't necessarily be first across the finish line. That's why, for the 14th consecutive year, Alaska Airlines will be in Nome to present the Leonard Seppala Humanitarian Award for the musher who demonstrates the greatest care of his or her team. And once again, we're sponsoring 25 veterinarians who will care for the canines along the 1,100 mile trail. For more information on our low fares to Anchorage and Nome, call your travel agent or Alaska Airlines at 1-800-426-0333. And join us in supporting the true winners.
