

Film features Japan's culture

The consulate-general of Japan is offering the second program in a series of cultural evenings at the Anchorage Museum of History and Art Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

The program will feature a film entitled "Japan" and a talk by Anchorage School Board member Jim Robinson who has just returned from a visit to Japan where he was studying the education system.

The 80-minute film is one of a four-part series exploring the sources and expressions of the Japanese character.
