

Tetlin contributes funds for surveys

Officials of the Tetlin Village Corp. have contributed $2,500 for use in wildlife surveys on the Tetlin Indian Reservation near Tok, according to the Alaska Department of Fish and Game.

Recognizing the importance of these surveys to Tetlin villagers and the necessity of the department to limit surveys as a result of budget restrictions, Tetlin officials decided to help pay for these surveys, officials said.