

She listens and scolds

"It is so good to have an older mature woman with two steady feet to put us on balance and put us on the right track," said Nastasia Markham of Bethel as she introduced the woman whom the Calista Region delegates wished to honor.

"She talks with us yet she's not afraid to scold us when we need it," added Ms. Markham, speaking of Gladys Jung who has run a trading post and taught in the BIA school on the Kuskokwim River for 18 years.

She has been on the ANSWO board as the Calista representative and been a delegate to the 1982 White House Conference on Aging.

"She has given support to us. It is good to have someone that can be a light and guide for our area," said Markham.

Jung said with humor, "I don't think that is me you have talked about. I hope I can continue to be able to help. I enjoy working with people."
