

Our apologies

In our last issue, we ran an ad for Tsesyu Time to Eat Restaurant in Cantwell. The ad was supposed to feature a picture of the new restaurant owned by Alec and Ruby John. However, concerned that the Tundra Times photo of the building would not reproduce well, the editor substituted a picture of Mrs. John without further consultation. As presented, the ad obscured the fact that the restaurant, like the gas station owned by the couple at the same site for many years, is a joint enterprise. We apologize for the error, and deeply regret any misunderstandings it might have caused.
