

Phoning Brisk At Notti's Desk For Roll Forms

Emil Notti, president of the Alaska Federation of Natives said this week that the incoming calls to his office in Anchorage have been brisk.

Notti announced the beginning of the roll call of Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts with one quarter or more degree of blood on Dec. 20 to write or call his office so the persons can get forms to fill out to record their ancestry.

"Many calls have been coming in, some of them in bunches and then bigger bunches," said Notti. "I guess the reason is that when a radio announcement is made, they start calling."
