approach. It gave us
the feeling of being a preferred customer."

*Ken Philomenoff
TDX Corporation*

Mention Alaska to someone in the lower 48 and what comes to mind isn't another state, but more like a different country. Precisely the dilemma faced when TDX Corporation wanted to renovate their Anchorage International Inn.

The lending environment was as uncertain as the weather. TDX turned to National Cooperative Bank.

Most other banks wouldn't talk to us. NCB thought we had a pretty good hotel operation. Being shareholder-owned, they understand Native corporations. How we work. Our politics. Our unique situation.

At NCB, we believe that cooperative solutions aren't the only solutions, but they're often the best ones. If you're looking for help, give Al Williams a call at
