Tlingit & Haida Community buys tour bus business in Juneau

The Juneau Tlingit & Haida Community Council will make an entry into the tourism industry this summer following its resent purchase of a Juneau based bus tour company.

The Council purchased Ptarmigan Ptransports and Ptours April 7 following a decision by council members. The acquisition includes five buses with a maximum seating capacity of 166.

The now Native-owned company, Alaska Native Tours, will offer visitors a complete tour of Juneau, the Mendenhall Glacier and surrounding areas, but with a twist - history through the eyes of an Alaskan Native. The Native perspective tour is expected to last about two and a half hours and will be made available through tour brokers.

"The Council views the purchase as an opportunity to provide employment and training for tribal members, while educating visitors of the traditional values Natives hold for their land and Heritage," said council president, Alberta Aspen. Aspen emphasized that organized cultural heritage tourism can provide opportunities for the younger generation to learn more about themselves, their history and increase a sense of pride in their culture. our background of our pride and Aspen also said the Council ownership and share our hospitalwanted to diversify its funding to ity." involve its Council members in an The Juneau Community Counindustry that is projected to cil is one of 26 councils served by steadily increase during the comthe Central Council of the Tlingit ing decade. Some 500,00 visitors and Haida Indian Tribes of Alaska are expected to meander their way headquarters in Juneau. The Comthrough Juneau, many taking admunity Council has 23 delegates vantage of sightseeing highlights. representing thousands of mem-"This is a major step," Aspen said. bers in Juneau. "We are excited to offer visitors