

Pitka's Point's elementary has been studying salmon. As an extension activity, the K-2 class set up an imaginary boat made from an old cardboard box. Using Kittyco, their make believe boat, they learned about fishing, boating, and water safety. They also acted out and then wrote about adventures. Here, Jonathan Riley and Kathleen Nick role play catching a silver salmon.

Photo by Jerry Peverall