

Although they look as if they are actually competing in a chemical war, it's only a practice drill for members of the National Guard from Mountain Village. The practice with full chemical warfare gear ensures readiness of the Guard for worldwide events, as the tense situation continues in Iraqi-occupied Kuwait.