

FAIRBANKS MAY GET WOMEN'S JOB CORPS

Representatives of Melpar, Inc., a research and development firm in the Washington, D.C. area, will be in Fairbanks October 21 to meet with various officials to gather background information that might be helpful to them in establishing a Women's Job Corps center in Alaska, Senator E. L. (Bob) Bartlett said in a letter.

Representatives of Melpar will be Dr. Leo Schmidt, Melvin Scott and Robert Kellogg.

According to the Alaska delegation in Washington, Melpar is particularly interested in the Fairbanks area.
