"It Looks So Beautiful.
Let's Go Next Year!"

Great Idea! Ask anyone who's been to Alaska—they're sure to agree! Each year thousands of visitors discover for themselves the scenic wonders of a land rich in resources as well as beauty. This year, the state's most successful, enticing virtues were given a helping hand by the Association of Pacific Fisheries.

Last April, the Association embarked on a tourist program based on colorful postcards bearing the message "Visit Us in Alaska" and "I'm Having a Great Time in Alaska." They were vigorously promoted in newspapers and radio. Thus far, 57,743 postcards have been distributed free to residents... who invited their friends to visit Alaska and to visitors.

The Association is sponsoring this program because—as spokesman for Alaska's most important industry—it is vitally interested in anything that will help the state's economy.
