

Research Auroral Infrasonic Waves

FAIRBANKS – The University of Alaska's Geophysical Institute has received a grant from the Geophysics Section of the Air Force Office of Scientific Research.

The $73,000 grant goes to Dr. Charles R. Wilson, professor of physics at the institute, for research on auroral infrasonic waves at Stevens Village, Alaska. It will fund the project for one year.