

Sentencing guidelines set

After three separate studies confirmed racial bias in sentencing of Natives and blacks, Chief Justice Jay Rabinowitz has proposed a set of guidelines to be followed in sentencing offenders. The procedures are designed to "neutralize any possible racial influence" which may enter into sentences meted out by the courts.