From Bird Creek to the Bering Sea, Natives have been abuzz with rumors of action actor Steven Seagal's latest project.

A Nome spokesman says production people are being advised as to customs, costumes and the Elders have been contacted for advice on a movie entitled, "Rainbow Warrior." "They are looking at Nome, Valdez and other places," said a pilot. The actor reportedly toured the Interior.

A Tundra Times writer was invited to audition last week north of Alyeska.
