

Reunion for students of 1917 to 1967

The Sheldon Jackson High School reunion will be held May 21-23 in Sitka, and all former students and staff are invited to attend.

The reunion is for anyone who attended the school between the years of 1917 and 1967. Former students need not have graduated in order to attend.

Former students and staff from as far away as New York, Sand Point and Barrow are expected, according to Laurie Cropley Hill, reunion chairman and a member of the Class of '63.

Many activities are being planned for the alumni, and basketball games will be a highlight. Also, there will be a banquet, dance, picnic and tour of Sitka.

Jessie Weir Price from the Class of '21, the oldest graduate, will offer remarks at the opening reception.

The guest of honor will be Gladys Whitmore, a teacher for 40 years.

Any former students who are not on the alumni mailing list are urged to call or write. Registration for the banquet is on a first-come, first-served basis, with limited seating. Those interested are encouraged to register as soon as possible.

Accommodations will be offered on campus for $30 a day, including room and board.

"Bring your basketball shoes, your cheerleading voice. Brush up on the school song, and plan on seeing friends from years back," Cropley Hill said. "We look forward to seeing you all!"

Those who want to write to Cropley Hill may contact her at the Sheldon Jackson High School Alumni, Box 985, Sitka 99835; or call 747-3073.
