

APRN announces new contributors

Diane Kaplan, executive director of Alaska Public Radio Network, announced Crowley Maritime Corp. has become a new contributor to the Alaska Public Radio Fund by investing $12,600 for 1987.

As a contributor to the APRN fund, Crowley Maritime will receive credit announcements on APRN's news program, "Alaska News Nightly," heard locally on public radio stations.

Kaplan also announced that Cook Inlet Region Inc. has joined the APRN fund by investing $6,300 for 1987.

APRN's 20 affiliate stations are located throughout the state of Alaska.

"CIRI's contribution is evidence of the importance CIRI places on public radio as a significant source of information and entertainment for the people of our state," said Roy Huhdorf, CIRI president.
