

'I Dig Alaska' Says Volunteer On Kodiak Island

The Blade Sunday Magazine of the Toledo Blade on June 26 carried an illustrated article on a VISTA volunteer from that Ohio city who is serving at Ahkiok on Kodiak Island.

Bill Engelke, 23, reported from the village where he is assigned:

"I dig Alaska. It's great. The people are colorful, stimulating, interesting, spirited and adventuresome."

On the day he wrote, the temperature stood at 48 degrees in Ahkiok and well below freezing in Toledo.
