

Well 'Chewed up' Dog Surveyor Refused Entrance

(From ROSEBUD SIOUX HERALD)

"I was surveying dogs the last few days and covered six communities and I was bit by two different dogs," reports Antoine Provancial.

He added:

"I was chewed out just about every other place I went to, and one family even refused to answer the door when I knocked."

Nothing in human life is more to be lamented, than that a wise man should have so little influence.

Herodotus