

Soviet MiGs land in Alaska

Two Soviet MiG-29 fighters and an An-225 cargo aircraft were expected to land at Elmendorf Air Force Base Sunday for a refueling stop.

This was the first time either of these aircraft have landed in North America.

The An-225 is the largest airplane in the world. The An-225 and the MiGs were on their way to a performance at the Abbotsford International Air Show in Vancouver, B.C.
