

TT Tickler:

Last week, as the Tundra Times staff raced at lightning speed to meet its (late) deadline, the phone rang. Ever eager for fast breaking news, the phone was answered. The unfortunate caller, calling long distance got her wires crossed. "General Electric?" she asked. "no," staff artist Stoney Compton replied, "But would you like to speak to Colonel Watt?"