

Medical Men to Hear Specialist

Fairbanks area physicians and surgeons will have an opportunity to meet and confer with Dr. Gerald L. Baum, chief, Pulmonary Section, Veterans Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, during a special "El Torro" session from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday in the Rampart room, Travelers Inn.

This special one-night program, arranged by the Alaska Tuberculosis Association and the Washington-Alaska Regional Medical Program, will afford Fairbanks medical men an opportunity to hear a presentation by Dr. Baum and to bring x-rays for evaluation and discussion.

Arrangements for the local session with Dr. Baum, for which 15 physicians already have signed up, are in charge of Dr. Gary Walkup, a Fairbanks member of the board of directors of the Alaska Tuberculosis Association.

All physicians of the area, private, public health service and military are welcome to attend and should make arrangements for attendance with Dr. Walkup before Saturday.

Dr. Baum who taught in various Ohio medical schools from 1955 through 1965 and has authored more than 90 papers on Respiratory Diseases, will be in Anchorage Friday and Saturday for a two-day seminar with medical men of that area before flying to Fairbanks for the special three-hour session here.
