

Students to munch pollock for lunch

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has added Alaska pollock to the National School Lunch Program after offering it on a trial basis during the 1986-87 school year. Sen. Ted Stevens said recently.

"Adding Alaska pollock to the National School Lunch Program opens up a very promising market for this bottomfish resource," Stevens said.