

Yukon-Kuskokwim Area Heads to Meet

According to Deputy Magistrate Nora Guinn at Bethel, the Association of Village Council Presidents of the Yukon-Kuskokwim Delta area has set a date for a meeting on October 23 in Bethel.

The group is comprised of about 52 village heads in the southwest area of Alaska.

At last year's meeting, AVCP elected state representative Axel Johnson to head the organization. Johnson is from the village of Emmonak on the lower Yukon.

"This meeting is always very interesting as it consists of all the chiefs from the various villages," said Magistrate Guinn. "Many other native people attend."

Among those invited to attend the conference are: Emil Notti, president of the Cook Inlet Native Association; Roy Peratrovich, Tribal Operations of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Juneau; and Willard Bowman, director of the State Human Rights Commission, Anchorage..
