

Olympics committee to meet

The 1977 World Eskimo—Indian Olympics Committee is seeking volunteers to work on preparations for the Games, to be held July 28–30 at Fairbanks.

John Heffle, chairman of the 1977 Games, said anyone interested in participating should try to attend the upcoming committee meeting, March 16, at 7:30 p.m. at Auggies Restaurant on Airport Road in Fairbanks.

"If you'd like to be included, but can't make that meeting, just give me a call at 488-2030," Heffle said.

Putting together the Olympics successfully means a number of people committing themselves to a number of small and large tasks, from selling tickets to hosting contestants for the queen's contest, Heffle said.

"No experience is necessary; just a desire to help and enthusiasm for the Olympics," Heffle said.
