

Barrow Wets Best Drys, SS Manhattan Impresses

By GUY OKAKOK

BARROW, (Special)—Voters defeated by wet voters!

On the election day from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on ballots votes. Dry got defeated loss 16 more on dry ballots vote. Now the problem who's going to run it? And where are they going to place it.

Some people here never understand, thinking that it would be only for bars. But we know when village has more majority over anything they wishes to have, it's alway there no matter whether you like it or not.

So, probably will, placed in village bar and liquor store. Visitors from all over won't have to ask questions because they'll know where it is.

BOMBING THE ICE

When North Star III arrives, there were anchored ice along the beach. The very next day, men of ARL start bombing the ice close to the village. First day bombing they never did opened the ice.

Finally one the second day bombing they breaking it down just enough for LCM to come through. And each time when they come in with a load they'd zig-zag here and there, takes time for them to go through the passage.

Anyway though it's difficulty for the LCM's they got all the supplies in to the village. It's exactly one whole week for them to unload the North Star III.

FAR TO INLAND

Mr. Joe Felder, bush pilot here in village, never stop flying cruising here and there every morning taking women and men up to the rivers as this month was a season for graylings.

Names as follows who went up to the rivers are Elois A. Okakok, Rebecca Adams, Fannie Okakok, and others. I understand that the rivers up there are all watery no ice yet.

MAN HURT

Young man from Wainwright was brought in yesterday. He's still unconscious. Today, while I was working, Simon Tagrook told us that this young man came back from unconscious.

Now he is in good conditions. His name is Abraham Kagak. According to Simon Tagrook he said Abraham was working unloading the drums off North Star. Then he got hit by the drums, knocked him out and bush plane brought him to the Barrow hospital. He's OK now.

GETTING READY AGAIN

Whalers here are getting ready once more this fall to hunt whales.

Heard two days ago from Barter Island hunters that the whales below them are running south, even belugas.

These whales they saw will be coming a week from now. And all the whalers are ready to shove out any time.

UMIAK SAMAA

While I was in Brower's store, a person came in with excitement voice saying, "Ahraa Umiakpa-pa-paluk kanaa!" Meaning, "What a ship out there!"

We all went out to look. There below of village, we saw a ship that looks to us like an island. What a ship. 1,500 foot ship.

People would like to go aboard this great ship SS Manhattan. But I don't think anyone from village, I mean Eskimos, do ever went out to see.

Ice breaker was alongside in the middle section when we saw her. Looking out from shore, ice breaker seems to be a little dingy.

Next morning, they all left, where to we don not know.

Questions is, is she the largest one that ever was built?
