You can count
on us.

We're here to stay, Alaska. You can count on it. And you should plan for it, too. Because, with the advent of progressive oil development, hundreds of new jobs and million dollar investments are going to present our state with new challenges.

Some of the days ahead will be difficult, as have some in the past. But you can count on Atlantic Richfield to stay and do our part to make ours a great land. With your help, the future will be bright. By working together we can plan for a balanced expansion of our economy. Then, development of all our natural resources will mean a better life for everyone. You can count on us, Alaska, to help make it so.
