

The Board and Staff of Tundra Times would like to thank Ukpzagvik Inupiat Corporation for their support.

Sea Lion Corporation
Notice to the Shareholders
1994 Annual Meeting

November 17, 1995

Traditional Council Building

Hooper Bay, Alaska

Board of Directors proposes to bring before the shareholders the following:

1. Election of seven (7) Directors.
2. Reports of the status of the corporation.
3. Transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting or at any adjournment thereof.

Annual meeting door prizes will be offered to those proxies who have voted. If you cannot be at the meeting, be sure to fill out the proxy form that you will be receiving by mail and return it as soon as possible.

The World's New Voice in Calling

Save 50% or more on your next call from home or office
Booth in Sears Mall October 18
(907) 333-9266

Anchorage is Wild about the Alaska Federation of Natives!

The Anchorage Convention & Visitors Bureau and the entire community welcomes you to this year's Alaska Federation of Natives convention, and welcomes you back to Anchorage throughout the year.

Come back to enjoy Anchorage: Where Winter is Wonderful!

• Alaska's best shopping

All your shopping needs are covered in Anchorage, with Alaska's best malls, discount shopping and clothing.

• Anchorage arts

From the "Phantom of the Opera" to Anchorage Opera, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band to Anchorage Symphony, and a wondrous selection of plays on local stages, Anchorage keeps you entertained.

• Great dining

Anchorage restaurants run the gamut from French, Cajun and continental to burgers and ribs. We have something for all tastes.

On your next trip to Anchorage, stop by our Log Cabin Visitor Information Center, at 4th Avenue and F Street, for a copy of our "Seasons of Savings" brochure.

Wishing you a safe, sober and fun time at the AFN
Convention.

Anchorage
Convention &
Visitors Bureau

1600 A Street, Suite 200
Anchorage, AK 99501-5162

Log Cabin Visitor Information Center: 274-3531