Mrs. Moore of Emmonak Visits Mt. Edgecumbe

Mrs. Willie Moore of Emmonak is visiting Mt. Edgecumbe as a participant in the Parent Visitation Program. Mrs. Moore has visited home economics and social studies classes relating stories about her early life, her education through the sixth grade, and how her family has gradually acquired some of the modern conveniences.

Two of Mrs. Moore's ten children are students at Mt. Edgecumbe. Robert is a senior and Minnie is a freshman. Mrs. Moore is employed as a cook for the Head Start Program at Emmonak.

On Friday she appeared at an assembly program performing Eskimo dances for the entire student body.

Indian Health Care Funds Released

Alaska Senator Ted Stevens today praised the Nixon Administration for taking swift action in releasing nearly $2 million in additional Indian health care funds.

"Rising medical costs have resulted in the necessity of these funds to continue the Indian Health Service Program at its present level," said Senator Stevens. "These federal funds will assist in abating a shortage of staff, equipment and drugs."

Senator Stevens said that the President had ordered the release of $957,000 of the original appropriation and $1 million for contract medical services, part of a supplemental appropriation which was being held in reserve by the Bureau of the Budget.

Stevens was an original co-sponsor of a bill to make these funds available. The Alaska Republican Senator also joined with a bi-partisan group of 91 Senators and Congressmen on January 23, 1970 in urging President Nixon to release the funds.
