RCAC seeks subcommittee members

The Regional Citizens' Advisory Committee (RCAC) is recruiting volunteers to serve on each of its four subcommittees. The RCAC was formed after the Exxon Valdez oil spill as part of Alyeska's new spill prevention and response plan for Prince William Sound required by the State of Alaska. This 15-member independent regional citizens' advisory group is a cooperative effort between Alyeska and citizens of the region affected by the spill.

The four subcommittees are:

1. Port operations and vessel traffic systems
2. Oil spill prevention and response
3. Scientific research and review
4. Terminal operations and environmental monitoring

Per diem and travel provided.

Please send a resume and/or written discription of your knowledge, experience, and reasons for desiring membership to RCAC Executive Director Shiela Gottehrer, 750 West Second Avenue, Suite 200, Anchorage, Alaska 99501 by 5:00 p.m., July 6, 1990. Indicate the specific committee on which you wish to serve. For additional information contact Sheila Gottehrer at 258-4800; Fax: 258-4811, or Committee members Stacie Pascal at 272-2272, Ann Rothe at 258-4800 and Georgia Buck at 472-2327.
