

Project to Be Extended

The Office of Education has informed Senator Ted Stevens that the Alaska telecommunications project will be extended until April 30, 1973.

This program links over twenty small Alaskan communities with two way communication via satellite.

It provides an exchange of educational, medical, legal, employment and other information.

Due to a late start, federal funds were due to expire October 30 with the project only 75 per cent complete.