

Recycling poster contest deadline is March 15 for school children

Alaskans for Litter Prevention and Recycling is sponsoring a poster contest for rural Alaska school children, according to the organization.

The grand prize is a trip for two to Anchorage this spring.

Designed for ages K-12, the poster contest is an opportunity for children to express their artistic abilities and their concerns for the environment.

Students are asked to think about recycling in their areas, then draw and title a picture to encourage recycling.

ALPAR will award a $250 savings bond to student winners in each of three age categories: kindergarten through grade three; grades four through seven; and grades eight through 12.

Winning entries from each area will then be placed in a statewide competition to select a grand prize winner. The savings bonds are made possible through an Atlantic Richfield Foundation grant to promote recycling in rural Alaska.

The grand prize winner will enjoy a weekend trip for two to Anchorage, airfare provided by MarkAir and accommodations courtesy of The Sheraton Anchorage Hotel.

The deadline is March 15. Those whose schools have not yet received entry forms may call 276-1397 in Anchorage.

Poster entries should be submitted on paper no larger than 11 inches by 14 inches and mailed to: ALPAR, Can-Do Contest, Box 23123, Anchorage 99523.
