

Publisher named to CEDC board

Tundra Times publisher Alexandra J. McClanahan is one of eight new members of the Community Enterprise Development Corp. of Alaska Board of Directors.

McClanahan was named as a business representative to the board, representing the Tundra Times.

Other new members include Roseanne Demmert of Klawock, representing Klawock Cooperative Association; Mary A. Gordaoff of Cordova, representing the Tatitlek Corp.; Andy Jimmie of Minto, Minto Village Council; Myron Naneng of Bethel, Sea Lion Corp.; Ruth Richardson of Bethel, Bethel Native Corp.; Orie Williams of Bethel, Nenana Native Council.

Re-elected to the board were Frank Stein of Kotzebue, chairman, representing Kikiktagruk Inupiat Corp; Weaver Ivanoff of Unalakleet, Kawerak Inc.; and Jerry Liboff of Dillingham and Koliganek, Koliganek Natives Ltd.

Other board members include Ken Johns of Copper Center, vice chairman, representing Ahna Inc.; Joseph Chythlook of Dillingham, treasurer, Aleknagik Natives Ltd.; Lydia Robart of Port Graham, secretary, Port Graham Corp.; Mitch Demientieff of Fairbanks, Tanan Chiefs Conference; Cheryl Edenshaw of Kotzebue, Kotzebue IRA Council; Henry Ivanoff of Unalakleet, Bering Straits Native Corp.; Linda Lester of Kodiak, Kodiak Tribal Council; James Segura of Kenai, Salamatof Native Association; Myrna Torgramsen of Wrangell, Wrangell ANB Camp, No. 4; Robert Eric Bulmer of Anchorage, Alaska Executive Search Inc.; Tom Humphrey of Anchorage, Humphrey Co.; Robert Martin Jr. of Auke Bay; and Brian Porter of Anchorage, Alaska Security Inc.