

Katzeek selected president of Sealaska heritage panel

The Board of Trustees of the Sealaska Heritage Foundation elected its officers for 1987 at its annual meeting in Juneau.

David G. Katzeek of Juneau was elected president. Carlton Smith of Anchorage was elected vice president, secretary and treasurer; and Gordon Jackson of Juneau was elected vice president of development.

Robert Martin Sr. of Juneau was elected chairman, and Walter Soboleff of Tenakee Springs was elected vice-chairman.

The Sealaska Heritage Foundation is one of the state's largest non-profit educational foundations and is based in Juneau.