

Wet booze only

Spurred by a fear that powdered alcohol might be sold in the state and its possible ramifications for dry villages, the Senate last week attached an amendment to an alcohol tax bill which permits only liquid alcohol to be sold in Alaska.