

Warm photo response

Several thought the photo was taken on a bus field trip between Eklutna and Anchorage in 1939. Some of the students had photography class.

Some of the students are now deceased.

However, some are now parents and great grand parents. One said his granddaughter was so surprised, 'Grandpa had black hair!'

Another two are daughters who had never seen a photograph of their Mother. The child remains unidentified.
