

SJC Enrollees More This Yr.

Sheldon Jackson College has recorded a 20 per cent increase in the number of full-time students registered for the fall semester. As of Monday, Sept. 15, 213 students had completed registration as compared with 177 last year at this time.

Final registration figures will not be available until the end of this week as the College is expecting still more students. The late arrivals are partly due to transportation problems.

There are also 41 part-time students attending classes which began Sept. 9.

As in many colleges around the country, living space at Sheldon Jackson College is at a premium; but administrators have been successful in housing all students requiring rooms. There are 177 students living in SJC's six dormitories.

Disciplinary Regs— No. Slope Sch. Dist.

The North Slope Borough School District has developed new disciplinary regulations for all secondary students. These regulations were presented to the North Slope Borough School Board for their review during a special meeting August 25, 1975.

The regulations spell out suspension and/or expulsion procedures, which must be followed when certain acts of misbehavior occur.

Categories of misbehavior covered are: Excessive class cuts or absences, vandalism, profane or abusive language, and alcohol and drug abuse.

These regulations marked the initial steps in the development of comprehensive disciplinary policies and procedures for students in the North Slope Borough schools. Administrators met with community groups, teachers, and students prior to implementation of the disciplinary regulations.

RAVEN

OF WOODCUTS
by Dale De Armond

Raven Made the North Wind

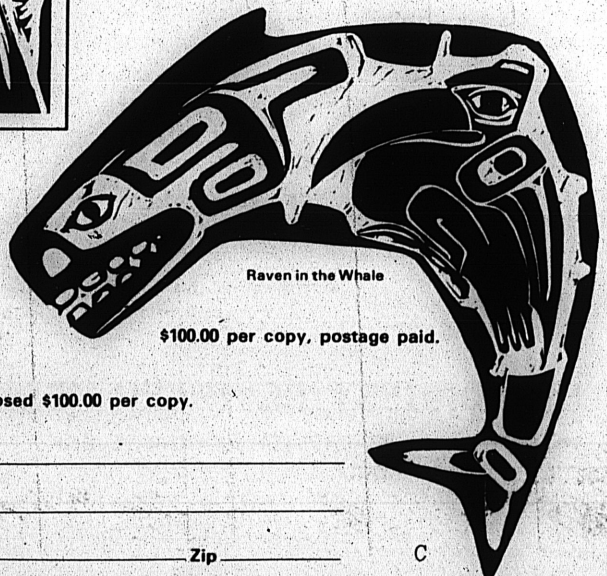

Once in a great while, a publisher has an opportunity to produce a truly distinguished piece of work. RAVEN is such a book.

This book, a collection of woodcuts, illustrating 28 Tlingit legends that explain universal myths: the creation, the great flood, virgin birth, will become a cherished collector's item.

There were no mysteries to the Tlingits who, before the coming of white men, were seafarers, traders, hunters, fishermen, mighty warriors and highly skilled artists: RAVEN made the world and controlled everything in it.

RAVEN combines 28 traditional tales, first collected in 1904, with the strength and character of a traditional art form, woodcut prints, by one of the Pacific Northwest's premier artists, Dale De Armond. Ms. De Armond, whose output is limited because of her attention to detail and fidelity to form, frequently has serials over-subscribed before they are brought to market. The Juneau artist has made the prints and legends available for printing as a one-time, limited edition, 1,250 copies. Each copy of RAVEN will be signed by the artist.

Alaska Northwest Publishing Company has designed RAVEN to accentuate the quality of the contents: a new, highly readable typeface, exceptional quality paper, and covers and a slipcase that are, in themselves, high art in the publishing world.
