

Photographic contest

Photographers throughout Alaska are invited to submit entries in the 1976 Alaska Positive Photographic Contest, sponsored by the Alaska State Museum.

Twenty-five entries will be selected for a show that will travel throughout the state, and prizes will be awarded for Best of Show ($150), First Place Color ($100) and First Place Black and White ($100).

Contestants are limited to three entries each and should submit them on 16-by-20-inch matboard. Entries should be mailed to George Parker, Curator of Temporary Exhibits, Alaska State Museum, Pouch FM, Juneau, Alaska 99811. The deadline for this year's contest is October 10. The contest is limited to Alaska residents. There is no entry fee. Color transparencies will not be accepted.

Entry forms can be obtained from local museums and arts and crafts associations throughout the state. Contestants may also write to George Parker for entry forms.

Once selected, the show will travel through 10 Alaska cities, including Ketchikan, Sitka, Petersburg, Cordova, Seward, Kodiak, Anchorage, Bethel, Fairbanks and Nome, as well as Juneau.

Over 200 photographs were entered last year, of which 25 were chosen. Top photos last year were from Bethel (people hauling water), Fairbanks (Birch trees) and Juneau (Wolf at window).

The juror for this year's contest will be Ron Partridge, of Berkeley, Calif., a veteran of 47 years' photography experience whose photos have appeared in every major magazine in the U.S., Parker said.
