

NWCC assisting students

Northwest Community College (NWCC) in Nome will be assisting students who wish to apply for grants, scholarships, loans or other financial aid assistance in order to attend college. It is important for anyone who feels they may be eligible for financial aid to contact the College at their earliest convenience.

Grants may run out of funding; in that case early applicants have the best chance. Also, for most financial aid, family income level is a factor that has to be determined by a special formula which takes time in many cases.

Part-time students also are urged to follow instructions they have received regarding application for credit and funding especially for the spring semester now over. This includes all teacher aides, associate teachers and Adult Basic Education teachers in the region.

Local fraternal groups may have scholarship monies for full-time students which have not been expended. In addition, local employers such as Norton Sound Health Corporation, Kawerak, and KNOM have on occasion funded employees for courses that are job related.

Anyone who feels they may be eligible for financial aid to attend college or would like further information about financial aid assistance, call NWCC at 443-2201 or come by the office.
